VIRGINIA LOSES COACHES

VARNER AND WARREN WILL NOT RETURN NEXT SEASON

Among Probable Successors Are Carter, Hanks or Coleman—Washington

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., November 29.—Virginia's annual athletic session will soon close a football coach to succeed Dr. Harry Varner, who has been dubbed the "Percy Houghton" of the South. Varner's phenomenal success the past season has made him a big favorite with undergraduates and alumni, and while many would like to see him direct the institution some other coach has been suggested. It is well known, however, that Dr. Varner is not inclined to leave the state, and his departure will be a great loss to the college.

Three players of recent years are probable successors. Dr. H. H. Carter, of Harrisonburg, who was coach of the team in 1914 and 1915, and who was defeated by Varner in the championship game, is one of the favorites. Dr. J. H. Hanks, of Staunton, who was coach of the team in 1913 and 1914, and who was defeated by Varner in the championship game, is another. Dr. J. H. Coleman, of Charlottesville, who was coach of the team in 1912 and 1913, and who was defeated by Varner in the championship game, is the third.

Dr. Coleman, who has completed his fourth year, will not return to college, and would not doubt prove a capable mentor. He has been a member of the faculty since 1908, and has been a member of the board of trustees since 1910. He has been a member of the board of trustees since 1910, and has been a member of the board of trustees since 1910.

NEW ENGLAND CITIES ARE NOT TOO EAGER FOR INTS

Not Willing to Pay Hard Cash for Franchise—Team Must Come Without String

International League managers are scheduled to hold their annual session in New York in two weeks. At this time the question of disposing of the franchise, which was temporarily held by Harrisburg, will be brought up. For several years now, W. W. Wickes, secretary of the league, and the club, has been negotiating with the New England States with the idea of taking it over. Wickes, however, seems desirous to follow the plan of the Hartford Courant, and is trying to repeat the deal which was made with the Hartford franchise, but not with the satisfactory results. It seems up the situation as follows:

The idea of the International League and the real purpose that lies behind it, the sale of the franchise, has been the subject of much discussion. The franchise was sold last year, when Mr. Wickes told the people he interviewed that the franchise was being sold. BILLINGS BUYS BROODERS

PAYS FANCY PRICES FOR MARES AT OLD GLORY SALE

Margaret Drubin, 29033, and Other Animals to Be Added to String at Curle's Neck Farm

C. K. G. Billings, owner of Curle's Neck Farm, has added three more high-priced animals to his string. All are brood mares and will be shipped here at once. They were purchased last week at the Old Glory sale at Madison Square Garden, New York.

Mr. Billings paid the top price of the sale for Margaret Drubin, 29033, a splendidly bred trotting mare, who will join the other mares at Curle's Neck. Margaret Drubin sold for $7,500. Dick McMahon, acting for Miss K. L. Wilkes, of Baltimore, was the bidder on Margaret Drubin. His last bid was $6,500, and Ed Tipton, representing Mr. Billings, raised the ante another $1,000. Margaret Drubin is by Peter the Great out of The Huntress, by Onward Silver.

Mr. Billings also purchased a few brood mares at the Old Glory sale last year, but this year he has gone much deeper into the sport in which he once held a prominent place. He bought the top pacing stallion William for about $20,000 during the season besides paying the top price of the sale for Margaret Drubin.
